

THIS FISH HAS FEET

If you look closely at the tail fin you'll see the ten human toes of a woman posing to create the illusion of a fish. It's not easy to see at first, but a keen eye makes all the difference. The same is true when it comes to your potato order. In the last few months, sales have increased by double digits every single week. So before placing your next order, take a closer look to see if there's more to the picture.
